Preventive Mental Health Services for Children Entering Foster Care
The Center for Preventive Psychiatry, White Plains, NY
Hypothesis: without a specific methodology beyond supportive psychotherapy, there would be no clinical or IQ gain treating first placement foster children.

Scope included 104 children, about half of them given no treatment and half a supportive psychotherapy. Outcome of this project: without a specific methodology for treatment, the control and treated children were not distinguishable. Number of transfers among foster homes was also unchanged by nonspecific psychotherapy. An NIMH monograph was produced from this project.

1980-1990 Founder, Editor-in-Chief, the Journal of Preventive Psychiatry, a peer-reviewed journal

1983-1987 Founder of and Principal Investigator for the Foster Care Study Unit, Columbia University College of Physicians and Surgeons: Applied a derivative of the Cornerstone Therapeutic Method, developed and tested a manual for preventive psychiatry using that derivative. Designed and directed a controlled study of a method for prevention of the high incidence of “bouncing” in foster children placements, with support from the Daniel and Florence Guggenheim Foundation and the Klingenstein Foundation.

Peer-reviewed publications of my work with foster children appear in Zelman, A: Interventions with High Risk Children, Jason Aronson 1997 (Chapter by Kliman on Controlled Assessment of The Personal Life History Book Method for Foster Children). Results are also reported extensively in that book, focusing on the IQ rise phenomenon.

Medical Director, The Children's Psychological Trauma Center
A division of The Children's Psychological Health Center, San Francisco, CA

- Providing a full range of forensic services including forensic psychiatric evaluations, life care plans, and testimony in depositions and at trial.
- Delegated cases and supervised forensic services provided by staff and associate experts, including reviewing opinions and supporting documents.
- Personally testified as the expert witness in more than 300 cases, including in more than 100 trials.

Helped set legal precedents for the inclusion of psychiatric testimony in matters concerning wrongful death of a parent and loss of parental services, in both New York State and in California. A Federal Rule 26 list is available upon request to 415.292.7119.

Courtroom and deposition testimony experience included cases of institutional negligence of children leading to psychological trauma, negligent foster care, loss of parental services due to wrongful deaths, psychological trauma as part of personal injury of adults and children, childhood molestation, sexual harassment, termination of parental rights, and disputed custody. Since 2000 about 30% of the forensic work has been requested by defense, about 70% by plaintiffs, with defense tasks increasing in recent years.

Provided evaluations and testimony regarding 16 children negligently cared for and abused at The Kiwanis' OK Boys' Ranch, Olympia, WA, which helped lead to settlements and awards, totaling $25,000,000. Responding to disclosures in that case, many improvements have occurred in the publicly funded and licensed institutional care of children throughout the State of Washington, according to newspaper accounts.

My evaluations and opinions, together with that of The Children's Psychological Trauma Center team led by Robert Wynne MFCC, led to record-making $8,000,000 compensation for loss of parental and other services for 17 bereaved subsistence-economy Alaskan Inupiat Native Americans (Smith vs. Ryan Airlines, Anchorage, 1997).

Principal expert regarding institutional negligence and psychological damages in Does vs. Rudolph Kos and the Diocese of Dallas; the Catholic Church of Dallas was held liable for institutional negligence. Provided testimony concerning the need for major psychiatric treatment planning which was accepted by the jury. The eleven plaintiffs were awarded and $119,000,000 compensation including punitive damages against the Church) by unanimous decision.

Major Federal Court Matters:

- 2001 Evaluations and Recommendations Heard in Federal Court, Hannibal Missouri November 15, 2001. A Children's Psychological Health Center team of five clinicians and two administrative staff under my direction conducted a behavioral audit regarding the psychiatric conditions and the residential treatment of over 100 children (average ages 13 to 17) at Heartland Christian Academy, as requested by the Academy's general counsel.
- 2001 Doe vs. Three Springs Treatment Center, Nashville, TN
- 2004 Does vs. L.K. Baliredy et al. (An international child trafficking matter). Five days of deposition.
- 2004 Doe vs. State of New Mexico and Arthur Brokup

Major State Court Cases

Cases of public health significance, concerning allegedly traumatized minors in the care of governmental or institutional agencies:

- Does vs. OK Boys Ranch and State of Washington. 44 children in care at a state-licensed rehabilitation and foster care-related center were allegedly allowed to abuse each other while staff and therapists did not report harmful activities of which they knew. Submitted opinion and appeared as the principal expert. The plaintiff children have each received settlements in four phases of this litigation over a nine year period.
- York vs. Chaparral/Victor Treatment Facility, Orange County Superior Court. Evaluated an eleven year old child severely and chronically molested by a residential treatment staff member, provided an opinion concerning harm done and how to rehabilitate the child as much as possible. Implications for standards of residential care are contained within the case.
- Carlson vs. Ray-Lara Foster Home. Orange County Superior Court. Evaluated and testified concerning a twelve year old boy who was allegedly molested by a foster father and had to rescue himself. Opined that the foster father's partner was negligent; the judge agreed and awarded the child compensation for psychological damages.
- Does vs. Archdiocese of Los Angeles. Served as the lead psychiatric witness for plaintiff children and gave six days of deposition testimony. The case settled with major awards to over 150 alleged victim children.
- Does vs. Salesian Order Western Region. Served as the lead psychiatric witness for the alleged victim children; gave nine days of deposition testimony and two days of expert witness testimony at trial, following which, the case settled with major awards to the alleged victim children.
- Does v South Dakota School for the Deaf. Multiple boys were molested by an older student. The state school administration was allegedly negligent and major psychological damages were claimed. Served as the principal plaintiffs' expert on administrative liability issues and psychological damages. The case settled with major compensation for the plaintiffs during jury deliberations.
- Six Does and Chegoya vs. Dept. Health and Human Services, State of Washington concerning Santaria priestess' kidnapping, torture and sexual abuse of a cohort of siblings, resulting in a nine million dollar settlement for the plaintiffs on whose behalf I provided opinions and continuation into a criminal trial in which I will also be the principal psychiatric expert.

1990–1991 Chief Psychiatric Consultant, Children’s Garden, a residential foster care facility, consisting of group care cottages and a school, San Rafael, CA

1992 Founder, The Children’s Psychological Health Center – a California Public Benefit Corporation 501(c)3 Nonprofit Status. Mission statement:

The Children's Psychological Health Center (CPHC) is dedicated to healing the hearts and minds of children suffering from autism spectrum disorders, developmental disorders and serious emotional disturbances. We do this through a leading edge treatment called Reflective Network Therapy (RNT) a social network therapy that enlists those closest to the children, including family members, teachers, and therapists as allies in the treatment process. Children are treated in classroom environments and in communities stricken by natural disasters. Children treated by RNT achieve improved mental health, greater empathic capacity, improved social skills and cognitive gains and are helped to fulfill their human potential.

1993 to Present

Medical Director, The Children's Psychological Health Center, Inc. (CPHC) a California public benefit corporation with federal 501(c)3 non-profit status, San Francisco, CA. Responsible for standards of research, clinical treatment, clinical supervision, and implementing special projects. Reporting directly to the Board of Directors and to the agency's Board of Advisors.

A brief summary of actions taken to support our agency's mission since 1993:

Research, Development and Applications of Reflective Network Therapy:

Designed, conducted and supervised research projects evaluating and quantifying the effectiveness of Reflective Network Therapy (RNT). Updated and finalized the manualization of Reflective Network Therapy for therapist-educator teams and service site administrators. Published the data from scientific thresholds crossed with prospective, consecutive, controlled and comparison and replication readiness studies on our website. Participants in applying this method and providing IQ and other outcome data include: Arthur Zelman of the Center for Preventive Psychiatry, (New York), Nancy Blieden PhD of the Michigan Psychoanalytic Institute; Sandy Ansari, Educational Therapist of the San Diego Psychological Center; Catherine Henderson PhD and staff at Wellspring Family Services of Seattle; Linda Hirshfeld, MA of the Ann Martin Center in Piedmont, CA; Alicia Mallo MD of Buenos Aires, Argentina, and Alexandra Harrison, MD, of Harvard Medical School, Department of Psychiatry and director of an application of RNT services at Cambridge-Ellis School in Cambridge, MA.

Augmented video archives of actual in-classroom psychotherapy sessions using RNT; and selected a variety of videotapes which illustrate RNT techniques and interaction with child patients, peers, parents and teachers and created a DVD library of training videos, parent-permitted with confidentiality agreements for this purpose.

Established new alliances to support prospective affiliation with therapeutic preschools deemed promising for replication of Reflective Network Therapy. Tasks have included: formalization of an official training program and training program materials, outreach, presentations and demonstrations, contracting for services, initial and follow-up training and supervision of affiliated site staff, collaboration with peers, psychiatric consultancy, setting standards for outcome data collection, and documenting results.

Current affiliated service sites have included:

Ann Martin Center, Piedmont, CA
Wellspring Family Services, Seattle, WA
Cambridge-Ellis Preschool, Cambridge, MA
Walnut Lake Preschool, West Bloomfield, MI
Cornerstone Argentina, Buenos Aires, Argentina

CPHC was independently responsible for past delivery of RNT services at the following sites: Salvation Army Homeless Shelter for Families and Children, San Francisco, San Mateo Office of Education, San Mateo USD, San Mateo, CA, and the Cornerstone Therapeutic School in San Francisco.

Secured numerous grants; fulfilled objectives for research grants, grants supporting service sites, and grants for public health activities, such as the deployment of a disaster response method and material for treating children traumatized by natural disasters or by living under attack or threat in conditions of war or regional conflict. See also: Public Health Activities

In 2007, CPHC formally retired the name of “Cornerstone Therapeutic Method” for our treatment modality now known as Reflective Network Therapy.

- 1996–2002 Trained and supervised therapists applying RNT in a public school in the San Mateo Unified School District, serving seriously disturbed preschoolers in the San Mateo Office of Education. Supervised clinical treatment, implementation of research standards, and outcome data collection and personally provided in-classroom individual psychotherapy to preschoolers in this milieu four to five days a week for one year.
- 1999–2003 Established and directed The Cornerstone Therapeutic Preschool, San Francisco, CA. Conducted and supervised evaluations, treatment, research, and documentation of outcome data, 1987 and 1988.
- 2004 Cornerstone Argentina, CPHC affiliated service site.
Together with the International Psychoanalytic Association, helped organize, establish and supervise a therapeutic preschool project in Buenos Aires, “Cornerstone Argentina” treating severely disturbed and impoverished preschoolers. From 2005 to 2010, Alicia Asman Mallo, MD served as the Director of Cornerstone Argentina. Many of the children served at Cornerstone Argentina were severely autistic and as a consequence presented with mental retardation. Her work using Reflective Network Therapy produced significant positive test results, including a rare IQ rise for a very severely retarded child.
- 2005 Ann Martin Center, CPHC affiliated service site
Helped organize, establish and supervise a therapeutic project in Piedmont California, at the nonprofit Ann Martin Center in Piedmont, California for school based psychotherapy using RNT in Ann Martin Center’s “Cornerstone Therapeutic Playgroup.” Linda Hirshfeld, PhD an experienced and highly skilled RNT practitioner, continues to document consistently strong results for both cognitive and clinical improvements, including IQ rises, among the children she treats at this prestigious school.

Wellspring Family Services, CPHC affiliated service site.

Helped establish a Reflective Network Therapy service for recently homeless, disturbed preschoolers at Wellspring Family Services, (formerly King County Family Services), in Seattle, WA. Conducted a four day training intensive in that method for staff and created an organizational link between Wellspring and CPHC in order to continue training, supervision, and follow the children served for outcome data. Activated Reflective Network Therapy services for preschoolers at Wellspring in 2008; provided training, supervision and consultation services in person, using video conferencing, and by phone. Created a program enrichment tool by adapting CPHC'S manualized PLHB method to a new guided activity workbook designed for therapeutic use with homeless and recently homeless children.

Cambridge-Ellis School, CPHC affiliated service site.

Alexandra Harrison, MD, assistant professor of psychiatry at Harvard Medical School began using Reflective Network Therapy in an innovative pilot project at the Cambridge-Ellis School in Cambridge, MA. Dr. Harrison has since published RNT case examples, presented Reflective Network Therapy work at professional meetings in New York and Edinburgh, and authored the introduction to Dr. Kliman's book, Reflective Network Therapy in the Preschool Classroom (2011).

Walnut Lake School, CPHC affiliated service site established.

Collaborated with Michigan Psychoanalytic Institute's therapeutic Walnut Lake Preschool in West Bloomfield, MI to establish a Reflective Network Therapy service, and with the Cambridge-Ellis Preschool to do the same. Nancy Bleiden, PhD, a clinical psychologist is leading the replication of RNT at the Walnut Lake School. Alexandra Harrison, MD continues to lead the replication at Cambridge-Ellis Preschool. Both sites serve autistic as well as traumatized preschoolers.

Walnut Lake Preschool, CPHC affiliated service site progress:

- Strong IQ gains are already being reported, as are global mental health improvements of the children.
- At least half a dozen psychology interns are being trained in Reflective Network Therapy.
- Under Nancy Blieden PhD's leadership, up to eight children are being treated using RNT for serious emotional disorders. Cathy Rozenberg, MS, the educational director, has become expert in the educational synergy which is at the heart of RNT.
- Training videos and publications are being developed and a presentation was given at the American Psychoanalytic Association, June 6, 2014.

Under my leadership, CPHC established a new affiliated service site for delivery of RNT in a private Kiwi Preschool in Santa Rosa, contracting to RNT to special needs children in September of 2014.

presentation to the Sonoma County Board of Education, Special Education Division staff (September, 2014). Described the feasibility of using this private model as a community-based public health delivery system for special needs children in public school special education classrooms, noting the successful six year project in San Mateo USD where we had applied and proven that concept.

PUBLIC HEALTH ACTIVITIES

1993 In response to the mental health needs of children and families following recent massive firestorms, enlisted help from United Way to print and distribute 10,000 copies of My Fire Story -- a Guided Activity Workbook for Children, Families and Teachers.

1998 Therapeutic Pilot Project at the Salvation Army Shelter for Homeless Families, San Francisco, CA. Established a Cornerstone Therapeutic Nursery, serving seven homeless families with preschool children in January of 1998. The Wright Institute provided a psychology intern to conduct the treatment under training and supervision. The California School of Professional Psychology has assigned a doctoral thesis candidate to study the I.Q. rise phenomenon previously documented in Cornerstone therapies. Provided weekly supervision of the intern and the doctoral candidate. Unedited videotapes of this project are available to scientists and educators with a confidentiality agreement.

2001-2002 Responded to the 2011 Attack on America with a variety of public health/public education activities:

- Seminar for Parents on Crisis Management following 9/11: Convent of Sacred Heart Elementary School Seminar for Teachers on Crisis Management following 9/11: Stuart Hall and Convent of Sacred Heart Elementary Schools.
- Federal Emergency Management Agency: website linkage for CPHC's advice to parents and teachers.
- American Psychoanalytic Association: Website linkage for free copies of guided activity workbooks for children, parents and teachers.
- Gave three television interviews on primary prevention of the effects of psychological trauma and terror, San Francisco Channel 11.
- Gave three television interviews on secondary prevention via early life psychiatric treatment of children, San Francisco Channel 11.
- The State of Iowa purchased rights to reproduce 10,000 copies of My Book about The Attack on America - a Guided Activity Workbook for Children, Families and Teachers", published in 2001.

2005 Therapeutic Disaster Response Services: Collaborated with Mercy Corps and the Children's Psychological Health Center to produce a mental health resource following the hurricane disasters of 2005. Mercy Corps is distributed about 20,000 copies of our psychoanalytically informed workbook, My Katrina and Rita Story.

2008 Therapeutic Disaster Response Services: Following the Sichuan Earthquake Disaster of May 12, 2008, immediately established a link between Children's Psychological Health Center, Inc., Mercy Corps, and The China America Psychoanalytic Alliance to create mental health resources which were licensed for mass distribution in China by Mercy Corps. (See Publications Provided video conference consultation to responders helping traumatized children in China.

2008: Disaster Response Services: Immediately mobilized to respond after the hurricane of September, 2008 devastated the land, infrastructure, and people of Haiti in every conceivable respect. Intensive collaboration with Mercy Corps and The Massachusetts School of Professional Psychology enabled CPHC to rapidly produce a culturally informed mental health resource for traumatized children in three languages: My Personal Story about the Earthquake in Haiti was published in Creole, French and English and distributed by Mercy Corps.

2008 Assisted with founding a new non-profit organization called Teach with Africa. Member of the Teach Africa Board of Directors.

2011 Published Reflective Network Therapy work with 1700 preschool patients in book form, Reflective Network Therapy in The Preschool Classroom, Kliman G. (2011), University Press of America. Since that publication, CPHC has filled requests to help establish and provide training and consultancy services for three additional affiliated service sites for delivery of Reflective Network Therapy to special needs preschool children.

2012 Led a forensic team in Does vs. Bradley, Beebe Hospital and the Delaware Medical Society, (In October and November of, 2012) on behalf of 900 plaintiff babies, toddlers and children, culminated in a $123,000,000 settlement for the allegedly molested plaintiffs. The case was unique in that the horrific acts of a pediatrician (now jailed for several lifetime sentences) were recorded by the perpetrator with 100 of his baby and toddler victims. Extensive interviewing of the youngsters, and considerations of modern neuroscience literature on the dysregulating effects of infantile trauma helped make the case a precedent-setter.

2012 Addressed the California Judiciary Committee. Presented facts and opinion in support of the public health benefit of extending California's statute of limitation for sexual abuse victims. See video posted on You Tube for comments made on this subject: Gilbert Kliman, MD speaks in front of the California Judiciary Committee 4-24-12.

2012 and 2013 Forensic Project to assess the validity of claims about girls having been raped in Haitian displaced person camps:

- October of 2012: G. Kliman interviewed several hundred parents in assembled groups in refugee camps in a mass meeting and individual parents from other camps. To assess the extent of child rape further, on October 21-22, G. Kliman met with assemblies of about 200 people each day in Camp Haiti-

Block. At those meetings, 33 girls publicly described their rapes and suffering, and many identified their alleged assailants.

- In October, 2012 and January, 2013, Kliman interviewed seven individual children from multiple camps, aged 2-18 years, some with their parents. These were detailed videotaped forensic interviews, using Raskin's (2000) criteria,[2] G. Kliman, a forensic child psychiatrist, concluded that the complaints were probably authentic.

Public Health Education utilizing broadcast media

- Participated in more than 50 television appearances and radio broadcasts. Subjects discussed have included: the effects on the general population and children in response to stressful events: presidential assassination, psychological trauma, childhood sexual abuse; the Columbine school shootings, the Challenger space shuttle disaster; terrorism and the 9/11/2001 attack, and mass disasters. He has impulse dyscontrol, attentional deficits, and expressive language difficulties from which he can be seen to be recovering. Two excerpted tapes have been created to illustrate features of the child's pathology, and of the response to interpretive aspects of treatment. Gilbert Kliman, MD is the psychoanalyst, and the treatment is conducted three times a week, with parent guidance every two weeks. The videographer is in the room. This may be the only existing video archive of a child analysis conducted by a certified child psychoanalyst.

Scientific and Educational Video Archives under the supervision of the CPHC Medical Director (1995-ongoing)

With parental permission, The Children's Psychological Health Center, under Dr. Kliman's leadership, has collected well over 200 hours of video archives documenting unedited treatment using Reflective Network Therapy (RNT). Since 1995, therapists using this method in collaboration with educators, have recorded therapy sessions with seriously disturbed children and children on the autism spectrum. Gilbert Kliman, MD initiated this archival approach while working for a year as a daily in-classroom therapist in a public special education school. Under Dr. Kliman's supervision seven therapist-educator teams applied the Reflective Network Therapy Method. This archive shows the work of therapist-teacher teams applying the method in The San Francisco Unified School District, the Salvation Army Gateway Shelter, the Cadence Cornerstone site at Mount Pleasant School in San Jose. Therapists whose work is shown include: Vanessa Vigilante, Deanna Reardon, Karita Hummer, and Molly Franklin.

A professional researcher/training confidentiality agreement is required to study this archive.

Report on the application of RNT for treating children with PDD and SED within a Public School Education Department by Special Education Senior Administrator, Jay S. Parnes, Ed.D.

December 3, 2001
To Whom It May Concern:

This is to report that the San Mateo County Office of Education, Special Education programs, has benefited from the services of The Children's Psychological Health Center, specifically its Cornerstone Therapeutic School Project.

We have worked together for the past six years. Under the leadership of Gilbert Kliman, M.D., the Center has trained members of our teaching and school psychology staff to carry out a mental health service on our premises. We now have a collaborative project in its sixth year for our special education preschool children with Pervasive Developmental Disorders (PDD) and for those with Serious Emotional Disorders (SED) which interfere with their education. As an alternative to sending children to a private nonpublic special education school for extremely intensive mental health services at significant cost, this project has created and provides just such intensive service within a public preschool special class program at 65 Tower Road, San Mateo.

To my knowledge, among the 30 children served so far under the collaborative project, we are seeing cognitive, social and human gains which have decreased the gap between these children and their typically developing peers. Several families and children are thriving with less intensive special education service or returned to regular education class. Not only has the family and child suffering been reduced, the burden to taxpayers is also reduced. The children have been able to remain in the community, and some who were functioning as severely autistic and retarded now appear to be developing within a somewhat normal range. We are pleased with the quality of special education services our County provides for preschoolers with PDD or SED. We are also gratified with the research results provided by The Children's Psychological Health Center.

We recommend the Cornerstone project to other school systems, so that they consider it an important opportunity should they be able to collaborate similarly with The Children's Psychological Health Center. At California's common cost of $15,000 to $40,000 or more a year, for a special education child who needs full time special education services and auxiliary intensive help, the savings for even one child's 12-year career of intensive services in special education can be substantial. The savings from one of the successes we have seen may equal the costs of the entire Cornerstone project with the 30 children helped so far.

We have not yet seen any failures. The agency is showing measurable cognitive gains for our collaborative work which, according to their research, averages 20 to 28 points in independent WPPSI testing of the children in the Cornerstone program. The techniques are far more economical to use than we have found with the Lovaas method, which we also implement for some students. We have also seen the techniques transmitted to special education teachers as well as inexperienced therapists.

Sincerely,

JAY S. PARNES, Ed.D.
Senior Administrator
Special Education
